FEDERAL GRANT

In October New Destiny was awarded a $300,000 federal grant through the Dept. of Justice/Office on Violence Against Women. The grant will provide rental subsidies to families using services at the Family Justice Centers in Brooklyn, the Bronx and Manhattan. This innovative collaboration is called Project HOME (Housing Opportunities Made Easy).

LOW INCOME HOUSING UNITS

The Anderson, a beautiful, $15 million green building designed by Magnusson Architecture and Planning, provides homes for low-income families—half of them from the domestic violence shelter system. The building includes two green roofs, a walk-out backyard with children’s play equipment, and a children’s room.

AFFORDABLE APARTMENTS

New Destiny completed the construction of Bainbridge Manor in Bedford-Stuyvesant, Brooklyn. Designed by Hardin Van Arnun Architects, this new building will provide affordable rental apartments with on-site services for 23 low-income households, including families headed by domestic violence survivors.

JUNIOR COUNCIL MEMBERS

Our wonderful junior council raised over $1000 for school supplies for our families in September. Comprised of young professionals who have an interest in supporting the vulnerable population New Destiny serves, the council helps with social media and fundraising events.
